

Hello guys, I hope you are staying focused on school and keeping busy and creative. I have been looking for fun art places to explore and exciting little projects for you to do at home.

The second one is for you to explore and create a deck of cards.

But, first let us learn more about Medieval decks of cards, which is the inspiration for your deck of cards. You are going to go to the Metropolitan Museum of Art again to learn more about Medieval art.

Click on this link and follow the instructions <https://www.metmuseum.org/art/online-features/metkids/explore/>

1. Go to TIME MACHINE
2. Scroll to SPORTS AND GAMES check the box
3. Click on the push icon “button” on the lower right of your screen.
4. Scroll through the art work until you reach the set of 52 playing cards
5. Scroll and read about the artist and the painting. WHO, WHAT, WHEN, WHERE
6. Read discover and Click on “want to know more” read and look at the close up pictures of early cards.
7. Go back to the previous page
8. Read IMAGINE
9. Read CREATE and make your own deck of playing cards
10. Play card games with them.

HAVE FUN AND POST PICS OF YOUR deck of cards ON FACEBOOK! OR SEND THEM TO ME AT spreski@syrdiocese.org I WANT TO SEE THEM! I MISS EVERYONE! KEEP WATCHING AS I WILL SEND MORE THINGS ALONG. STAY HEALTHY!
