

Hello guys, I hope you are staying focused on school and keeping busy and creative. I have been looking for fun art places to explore and exciting little projects for you to do at home.

The third one is for you to create your own garden inspired by what you learn from this site. With spring here and flowers starting to pop out I am assigning this to every grade. Someday one of you may be a landscape architect, floral designer, chef, botanist, research scientist discovering cures using plants. Plants are so important to so many aspects of our lives...food, dyes for clothing, perfumes, cures for illness, etc.

But, first let us learn more about the Medieval gardens. You are going to go to the Metropolitan Museum to view their exhibits of Medieval art.

Click on this link and follow the instructions <https://www.metmuseum.org/art/online-features/metkids/explore/>

1. Go to TIME MACHINE
2. Scroll to Spaces and places check the box
3. Click on the push icon "button" on the lower right of your screen.
4. Scroll and click on "Cloister from Bonnefont-en-Comminges"
5. Read about it
6. Watch the video
7. Read discover hover your mouse over the words with a yellow background read the definition. and Click on "want to know more" read
8. Read IMAGINE c"
9. Read CREATE Do the project.

HAVE FUN AND POST PICS OF YOUR garden plans ON FACEBOOK! OR SEND THEM TO ME AT spreski@syrdioocese.org I WANT TO SEE THEM! I MISS EVERYONE! KEEP WATCHING AS I WILL SEND MORE THINGS ALONG. STAY HEALTHY!

MRS. PRESKI