Happy New Year!

At Home

Fine Motor development is a very important skill for your child to learn. It will help them in the future when they begin to learn handwriting skills. Here are just a few ideas that you can try at home to encourage fine motor development. Lacing shoes, finger paint, play dough, cutting with scissors, helping with chores such as washing the table and picking up items off the floor.

Snack Time

January 2nd - 5th Hamilton
January 8th - 12th Calum
